Buyer's Guide The Philips Norelco Series 5000 has been designed to provide users with a high quality hair removal experience. With its unique features including the ability to remove unwanted hairs in seconds the Series 5000 is ideal for those who wish to achieve a professional-looking result. The Series 5000 uses a combination of heat and suction to gently lift away dead skin cells and hair follicles. As soon as the blades touch the skin the heat instantly seals the pores which prevents ingrown hairs from reoccurring. Once the blades have lifted the hair the suction pulls it into the base unit where it is collected and removed. Using the Series 5000 does involve some pain however this is only temporary and lasts no longer than 30 minutes. After using the Series 5000 there is little discomfort and most people report feeling refreshed afterwards. No although it is recommended that you use the Series 5000 once a week to ensure optimal results. However if you notice that your skin feels dry irritated or sensitive you should stop using the Series 5000 immediately. Although the Series 5000 contains heating elements these are very gentle and cannot cause any harm to the skin. Furthermore the blades are extremely soft and flexible meaning they will not scratch the skin. Yes the Series 5000 offers many benefits besides removing unwanted hair. For example it reduces frizziness and makes your hair appear thicker and shinier. Additionally it improves blood circulation making your scalp healthier and stronger. You can purchase the Series 5000 online from Amazon UK. The Importance of Purchasing a Quality Philips Norelco Series 5000 Philips Norelco has been making hair care products since 1884. Their product line includes shavers trimmers clippers straighteners curling irons blow dryers flat ironers and many others. In addition to these household appliances they also produce professional grade tools for barbershops salons spas beauty parlors and medical offices. How To Choose The Right Product For You There are several different types of hair styling devices available today. Some are designed specifically for men while others are meant for women. There are also models that are designed for both genders. Each type offers its own unique features and benefits. Before choosing which tool is right for you there are certain factors that must be considered. First decide whether you're going to use the appliance daily or occasionally. Daily users require a high-quality product that lasts long. Occasional users only need a simple inexpensive tool that does the trick. Next determine whether you plan to style your hair wet or dry. Wet styling requires a lot of heat and moisture. Dry styling uses very little heat and no water. Finally think about where you intend to use the tool. Will you be using it in your bathroom kitchen bedroom or living room? Once you've decided which category best fits your needs you can begin shopping around for the perfect tool. Look for reviews online. Many websites allow consumers to post reviews of specific products. Read customer feedback carefully to see if the reviewer was satisfied with his/her purchase. Check the warranty period. Most manufacturers provide warranties ranging from 1 month to 3 years. Make sure you understand exactly what the manufacturer covers. Consider the price tag. While most appliances are priced fairly some companies charge exorbitant prices for inferior products. Look for deals and discounts. The Philips Norelco Series 5000 has been designed to be easy to use and operate. The features include a corded design which makes it easier to reach areas where there is no power outlet available. There is also a built-in rechargeable battery which gives you up to 60 minutes of cordless operation.
